OVERFLOW CROWD ACCLAIMED FOLK FESTIVAL A SUCCESS

The first annual county Folk Festival which was held in the Frankfort school gymnasium last Friday night will long be remembered as an outstanding success. The overflow and fence was estimated at more than 800. This affair was sponsored by Will county home and farm bureaus with representatives coming from Beecher, Peotone, Manhattan, Mokena, Frankfort, Will township, Elwood, Lockport, Wilmington and Joliet.

Harlow Nicholson, Elwood, and Mrs. Ray Walsh, Frankfort, were co-chairmen of their committee consisting of: Don Hunter, Frankfort; Dorothea Eisenbrandt, Lockport; Mrs. Mable Krapi, Manhattan; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Heisner, Peotone; Mrs. Fred Gill, Mokena and Bill Goodwin, Wilmington.

Each organization presented their offering for the program, which proved to be most excellent: Judges being present to make their choice for the Class A rating, which will allow them to compete in the district folk festival at Yorkville Saturday. Winners from there will compete at the State and Farm Sports Festival at Urbana, August 26 and 27.

Each number on the program was so good it was hard for the judges to make their choice. Judges were: A. H. Bruning, Ruth Martin and Donald McNabb of Joliet.

Class A winners were: two groups who demonstrated square dancing. They were picturesque with the boys in blue jeans and red kerchiefs dancling from their pockets and the girls wearing white blouses with pretty colored full skirts. Robert Burch, Lockport, gave a vocal solo of a western ballad strumming his guitar; Marguerite Beck, Plainfield won her rating when she led in the community sing; Nancy 10, and Bobby Bovee 12, of Manhattan brought the house down with laughter with their puppet show "Slap Happy and Raggedy Ann."

Vocal Class A winners were: Kenneth Janda 12, accompanied by his father of Wilmington, Kelso Sharp and Betty Rapp, both of Elwood. Kenneth Janda sang, "You Were Meant for Me," and "How Soon," Kelso Sharp sang "Old Man River," and Betty Rapp's choice was "Toora Loora Loora."

From Mokena were: Joyce Werner, Rita Werner and Marjory Roberts who played a piano trio of a Minuet. Donna Rae and Janet Lee Schroeder of Peotone and the Von Alven sisters of Beecher tap danced. The Busy Homemakers Home Bureau unit of Frankfort led by Mrs. DeGroot gained favor with their humorous novelty 10 piece band. They wore pink apron uniforms with hats made of kitchen utensils.

There were many other winners of Class A ratings as well as others who did not win that rating but were very good. All in all it was a grand venture and all are looking forward to the next event. This is a fine way of bringing farm people and others together from all quarters.

Old Things

I love things which have stood the test; Old books, old friends so tried and true.

Old houses filled with memories pictured for us in many a hue.

Old gardens with their old time blooms old trees, sturdy and staunch and straight.

Which have weathered the blasts and the queer tricks of fate.

A coverlet made by skilled, loving hands.

Fea spoons and china from Grand mother's store,

Things she deemed precious; A part of our pioneer lore.

Old things, yes but symbols they are of gracious living, principles fine.

Which over the years may grow, take a part of your life—a part of mine.

Chinch Bugs Outbreak On Mokena Farm

According to Farm Bureau officials Edgar Chestnut of Mokena, has reported a rather severe chinch bug outbreak on his farm. The chinch bugs were apparently in some wheat which he cut recently and immediately moved into a corn field. Mr. Chestnut immediately secured some dinitro dust recommended for chinch bugs by the University of Illinois.

While it is not anticipated that damage from chinch bugs will be too serious over a wide area in Will county, officials at the Farm Bureau are asking that anyone having damage, get in touch with the Farm Bureau office immediately. A supply of dinitro dust can be made available within a very short time, if needed.

TINLEY PARK TO HAVE GALA EVENT

Labor Day weekend September 4, 5 and 6 will bring to Tinley Park a mammoth outdoor festival surpassed only by the Centennial exposition of several years ago. Fostered by the Recreation Commission made up of delegates of 30 organizations of the town it truly will be an expression of the people.

Mrs. Brown Campbell, president, felt that several years of steady effort of the Recreation commission to provide park and recreation grounds for Tinley Park should culminate in a "community festival." On Labor Day the last two parcels of land will be presented to the village board.

Henry Bettenhausen and a committee of competent workers is planning a program of fast moving events which include entertainment of all kinds, baseball contests, prizes, exhibits, races, rides and a parade. Special attention is being given to provide all features which are new and appealing. Prosperi airport will supply planes and pilots with a flying demonstration. Outdoor dancing with special lighting effects will appeal to young and old alike.

Completion of the properties will open the gateway for improvements in landscaping; community building; playground equipment and other projects in this Memorial ground.

Frank Vally, one of the proprietors, told sheriff's deputies the merchandise was valued at $400.00.

Entrance was gained by breaking the 24x48 glass in the front door, so they could reach the lock inside.

Henry Miller, painter and decorator, discovered the burglary when he stopped to buy material on his way to work that morning. There was no insurance on the articles taken.

Tax Delinquent Land Handicaps Community Growth

The results of a housing survey of some thirty cities and villages and nearby unincorporated areas in Bloom, Calumet, Rich and Thornton townships and portions of Bremen, Orland and Worth townships, was the subject of an address given recently by James C. Douns, president of the Real Estate Research corporation, before a group of civic and business leaders in Thornton Township High school in Harvey.

The audience was made up of approximately 150 officials of villages, school districts, and parks, and members of zoning and planning boards, commerce associations and civic groups, and persons in the real estate and building business.

The meeting was sponsored by the Cook county housing authority. Its aim was to discuss the "widespread misuse of land" as disclosed by a housing market survey and analysis in these communities south of Chicago.

Mr. Douns, a former president of the Chicago Real Estate board, stressed the need for realistic dealing with tax delinquent land, a problem which has become the biggest obstacle to sound community development.

"We must free tax delinquent land," he said. "Some one must write a law to free land so it can be used and thereby spread the cost of government. This is one of the most vital steps necessary to improve conditions in this area. You should be in the forefront working for this."

He suggested "making tax delinquent synonymous with nonownership" as a solution of the "frozen" condition of thousands of lots on which owners have failed to pay taxes and special assessments in cities and villages.

Legal difficulties in obtaining a clear title to property with an accumulation of back taxes are such that the land usually remains vacant, he said, and emphasized that this situation has brought financial distress to municipalities and school districts in which frozen property is located.

Citing figures to show construction of homes had not progressed in the last eight years as it might have, Mr. Douns said tax delinquency is the reason why much land is vacant.

Referring to the misuse of land, he said there was little "rhyme nor reason" in the building of many homes in the last several years. Many have been built near industrial plants and in other undesirable locations, while better lots have been available at about the same cost.

The tax delinquency situation also has stimulated building in unincorporated areas where no sewers or other municipal facilities exist, he emphasized.

Figures in the analysis show that since 1940 unincorporated areas have had a housing gain of 25.9 per cent while cities and villages have increases of but 18.34 per cent.

"The building thus constructed," Mr. Douns said, "was in utter disregard of its effect upon the community. Almost without exception there appears to have been no real effort anywhere to contribute to the creation of soundly planned communities."

This is a subject which should create sound thinking in not only the villages mentioned in this article, but in this whole area, because of these many villages which lie so close to each other as is the case in this area. What effects one village, will also be felt in the adjoining one.

Perhaps the time is not too many years ahead, when some of our neighboring villages might be consolidated, forming one large city. We do know that Chicago expansion must come south as there is no more room to go north.

Aug. 11 "Illinois Day" at Wisconsin's World Fair

A special "Illinois Day" at the Wisconsin centennial exposition has been announced by Ralph E. Ammon, general manager of the exposition. He named August 11 as "Illinois Day" and issued a blanket invitation to the people of Illinois to visit Wisconsin's World Fair then or at any other time during its 23-day operation, August 7 to 29.

Arrangements are being completed for special trains to take Illinois visitors direct to the Exposition Grounds in West Allis, from Chicago, for "Illinois Day." Special auto tours are also being organized for those who prefer to drive.

INCREASED TAX RATES INCLUDE BETTER SCHOOLS PROGRAMS

Springfield, Ill.—July 20—Out of the ten largest cities in downstate Illinois, East St. Louis has the dubious distinction of being way out in front with a total tax rate this year of $2.84, an increase of 31c on each $100 of full valuation over last year, according to figures released by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois today. This means that the tax bill on a $10,000 house in East St. Louis this year will be $284, an increase of $31 on a house valued at $10,000.

Decatur has the second highest tax rate of $2.42, an increase of 30c over last year.

The Springfield tax rate is $2.20, an increase of 42c. This increase raised Springfield from fifth place last year to the third highest tax rate this year of the ten largest cities downstate.

Rock Island is in fourth place again with a tax rate of $2.12, an increase of 16c.

Quincy is the only other city, among the ten largest, with a tax rate over $2.00. Despite the slight increase in the tax rate from $2.02 to $2.033, Quincy dropped from third place to sixth place because of the substantial increases in other cities.

Aurora taxpayers living in School District 129 are paying the sixth highest tax rate this year with a rate of $1.989, an increase of 30.7c. The tax rate for Aurora taxpayers in School District 131 this year is $1.834 compared to $1.633 last year.

Peoria remains in seventh place with a tax rate of $1.91, an increase of 27c over last year.

The tax rate jumped 30c this year in Joliet, to a total of $1.886.

The Elgin tax rate is up 21.8c to a total of $1.73.

Rockford, the second largest city in downstate Illinois, has the lowest tax rate again this year. Its total tax rate is $1.57 up only 2c over last year.

"The tax bill on a house valued at $10,000 in Rockford this year was $157—$127 less than the tax bill on a house valued at $10,000 in East St. Louis—and yet Rockford has a larger population and better government," according to George Mahlin, Executive Secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. "It is significant that there is in Rockford one of the oldest and the best organizations of downstate taxpayers, the Civic League of Winnebago County."

"It is also significant that the taxpayers in East St. Louis and other areas in St. Clair County have organized the St. Clair County Taxpayers' Association to do something about their problem. They have already defeated a 1-2c municipal sales tax, are making an administrative survey of the East St. Louis School District at the request of the school board and, with the help of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, have made a survey of the East St. Louis School District at the request of the school board and, with the help of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, have made a survey of St. Clair County government."

The big bulk of the tax increases from 1946 to 1947 was for schools, with the increases authorized by the voters at elections. There was a 31c net increase in the total tax rate for East St. Louis but the tax rate for the school district alone increased 34c. There was a net increase in total tax rate in Decatur of 30c whereas the tax for the Decatur school district increased 34.3c. The tax rate for the school district in Springfield jumped 31c out of a total tax rate increase of

is the spectacular Chicago Railroad Fair, commemorating the hundredth anniversary of the opening of the West by rail transportation. Sponsored by America's leading railroads, it opens July 20 and continues through Labor Day.

Only one hundred years ago, a 10-ton, wood-burning engine, bought third-hand from eastern railroads, chugged out of the young city of Chicago, pulling a flatcar loaded with local dignitaries of the day.

This historic 5-mile trip of the "PIONEER" marked the beginning of Chicago's growth to leadership as a center of rail transportation. The Chicago Railroad Fair is a celebration of that growth. Rich with educational exhibits, it enlivens the contributions made by the railroads in the settlement of the country, the development of its economy and the winning of its wars. It pays tribute to Chicago's position as transportation center of the world and accords recognition to its eminence in cultural, educational and industrial achievements. The foremost railroads of the country have prepared fascinating exhibits, including trains from every period of railroad progress, from the old "PIONEER" to the very newest streamliners, including the famous "TRAIN OF TOMORROW". Visitors to the Fair, conveniently located on the Lake Michigan shore, will sample the travel attractions of every part of the country. A mile-long narrow-gauge railroad transports them to a typical southwest Indian village, past a replica of Old Faithful Geyser in Yellowstone National Park, to beach and Everglades scenes from Florida and through a western dude ranch. Highlight of the Chicago Railroad Fair is a colorfully staged pageant depicting the development of transportation from the birch bark canoes of the Indians to the de luxe trains of the future. More than 200 actors will present this dramatic pageant several times daily on an outdoor stage.

We're building ONE EVERY 45 SECONDS but that's not fast enough for America!

KAISER

Service wherever you go

In just two years we've built and sold more fine cars than any other new manufacturer in automobile history.

Why? Because America fell in love with the KAISER and the FRAZER on sight. Folks are streaming into Kaiser-Frazer showrooms and learning from present owners how dependable these two great cars are. They're learning—from people who drive them—how soundly they are built... how economical they are... how much enjoyment there is in owning one.

THESE ARE THE MOST-COPIED CARS IN AMERICA, road-proved by 250,000 owners in two billion miles of driving.

Because plenty of Americans insist on comfort, convenience, style and value, traditional leaders had to "move over"—as Kaiser-Frazer became the fourth largest manufacturer of motor cars in the world in two short years.

Why wait? Enjoy your new car this summer. You'll get fair treatment and highest trade-in allowance.

McCarville of Grandview pitched a near perfect game. The one hit came in the 9th by Walsh who was out at second trying to stretch it into a double. He issued only 2 bases on balls and struck out 13. Ludwig being hit a little more freely, kept his 9 hits pretty well scattered until the 11th when 3 his scored the winning runs. Ludwig struck out 16 men and walked only 1.

In the first 6 innings only 20 men faced Ludwig. 5 men reached 1st in this span by 4 hits and a base on balls two were erased on attempted steals and one on a double play.

McCarville pitched almost perfect ball for the first six innings, only 11 men faced him. The lone survivor being a base on balls to Schmaedeke who stole 2nd which was as far as he got.

In the 7th Walsh reached 2nd on an error by Murzym at 1st, Tuttle hit to the pitcher for the 1st out and Schmaedeke fled to center. W. Keuch walked. The inning ended when Doogan grounded to short.

In the 8th a hit by F. Hanus for Grandview did no damage, Busch's Motors went out one, two, three in their half of the inning.

In the 9th Jurewicz opened with a single, B. Begeske sacrificed, Murzym hit to deep center Jurewicz taking 3rd and when the throw was a little wide tried to score but was thrown out at the plate. In their half of the 9th Walsh opened with the aforementioned hit and was thrown out at 2nd. J. Hanus to R. Hanus, Tuttle and Schmaedeke went out in order.

In the 10th inning 3 up and 3 down for each team. In the 11th J. Hanus started with a single, Jurewicz and B. Begeske struck out, Murzym came thru with a double putting men on 2nd and 3rd. Firchau, Tinley's pitcher again tossed a beautiful game, allowing two singles and four walks while striking out 10.

Tinley drew first blood by scoring 1

Rain delayed the game for 15 minutes at the end of the first half of the fifth inning.

Tinley came up with a big inning in the sixth when Cummins led off with a triple, Anfield singled Cummins home, Kuech singled Anfield taking third and Kuech 2nd when Spero in R Field let the ball get thru him. Jasebandt was safe when his drive went thru Bulow playing third, Anfield scoring and Kuech taking third.

BUSCH MOTOR SALES 3

PHOENIX RED WINGS 1

In a game as close as the day with the humidity in the 90's, the Busch Motor Sales defeated the strong Phoenix Red Wings by a score of 3 to 1 in an 8 inning twilight game played at Orland, July 21 in a Southwest Suburban class B league game.

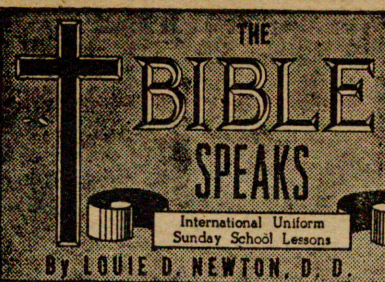

The game developed into a pitching duel between Ludwig of Orland and Paske of Phoenix. Phoenix scored its one and only run in the first inning before Ludwig was warmed up. Podgorny was hit by a pitched ball, Bukowski walked. Mysliwiec fouled to Tuttle. Wallgora singled, scoring Podgorny with their 1 run total of the game. Busch's matched this run in their half of the first inning, Kramer reached first on Podgorny's error a. 2nd, Kramer stole 2nd and scored on Cure's double to center. Cure was left stranded when Tuttle, Schmaedeke and W. Keuch went out in order. Both pitchers then settled down and with men in scoring position tightened up in the pinches, and with errors and sparkling defense kept the game in doubt all thru the game.

With the score still tied at 1 all in the last of the 7th the Ford boys decided to do something about it. Walsh led off with a hit over the center fielder's head and came to rest on 2nd base. Ludwig hit to the pitcher and Walsh was caught going into third. Ludwig was then caught off of first for the 2nd out, where upon Kramer singled and Cure was safe on a fielder's choice. This is where Tuttle rose to the occasion and doubled down the left field foul line scoring Kramer and Cure.

Tuttle went to 3rd on the throw home. Schmaedeke then grounded out to 3rd. In the first of the 8th Malec for Phoenix reached 1st when Ludwig's foot missed the base as he tried to cover the bag on a grounder to Cure. Paske forced Malec at 2nd, Ludwig put on the pressure striking out Podgorny and Bukowski for his 8th and 9th strike out ending a hard fought game.

Baruch, The Scribe

Lesson for August 1, 1948

Dr. Newton

BARUCH, whose name means "blessed," was the grandson of Maaseiah, "governor of the city" under Josiah (II Chronicles 34:8), and his father, Neriah, appears to have been an official during the reign of Jehoiakim. He was a trusted friend of Jeremiah (Jeremiah 32:6-15 and 43:5-6). Tradition holds that Baruch was carried to Babylon, where he wrote the apocryphal "Book of Baruch," and died in 574, B. C., twelve years after the fall of Jerusalem.

Our golden text for this lesson is found in Psalms 119:105, "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and light unto my path."

OUR BIBLE

"THEN Jeremiah called Baruch, the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of the Lord. Therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the Lord in the ears of the people in the Lord's house upon the fasting day; and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of the cities," Jeremiah 36:4-8.

How did we get our Bible? Through this simple process of God speaking through his appointed prophet, and by the faithful work of men like Baruch who served as scribes.

THIS SCRIBE OF LONG AGO

IN the introductory paragraph I sketched briefly the story of Baruch. He was a trained man, trusted and beloved. This he had to be, else God would not have approved Jeremiah's selection of Baruch to copy what he was saying for God. And not only was he selected to write down what God was saying, through his prophet, but he was used to proclaim the words of God to the people in the Lord's house. Baruch was amanuensis, reader and distributor of the Bible—a distinguished role, indeed. Let us today be gladly ready to read the Bible to others, and to distribute and circulate the Scriptures wherever we may. Here I pause to pay tribute to the American Bible Society and all others, including the Gideons, who help to make the Bible known to all men everywhere.

A MAN ON WHOM GOD COUNTED

THUS we see that Baruch was a man on whom God counted. His work was done well, and we read that, "When they heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king all of these words."

Young people will do well to ponder this incident. In the varied contacts of young Christians in this modern day, we may be used of the Holy Spirit in making known the words of God in countless ways. Thus, like Baruch, you may be used of God to make known his will unto all mankind.

BARUCH, A COURAGEOUS SCRIBE

THE full context reveals the fact that Baruch exhibited courage as well as faithfulness in his service as scribe to Jeremiah. It was not an easy task. Nor will it be easy to fill our posts as couriers of the Good News. But it was a rewarding experience for Baruch. He served his day and generation according to the will of God.

Mr. Henry Ford, Sr., believed in having a copy of the Bible near at hand wherever he might sit down in his home. I heard him say once that he had a Bible on every table in his home. "I do this in order that I may reach over and spend a few minutes with the Lord wherever I may sit down. And I always cherish the hope that others will find it a lamp unto their feet and a light along their daily pathway."

Let us give thanks for Baruch—the trusted friend who served Jeremiah, and thus served God.

Conduct

Fundamentally, the force that rules the world is conduct, whether it be moral or immoral. If it is moral, at least there may be hope for the world. If immoral, there is not only no hope, but no prospect of anything but destruction of all that has been accomplished during the last 5,000 years.

—Nicholas Murray Butler.

Uncle Sam Says

You howled your head off when a home town player, bat on shoulder, let a perfect pitch wham into the catcher's mitt for the third strike. Well, you'd have the same right to howl if you saw the man who works next to you miss the ball on this tax reduction business. By taking the extra money and putting it into United States savings bonds through the payroll savings plan he actually would be hitting a home run for security for self and country.

Your country needs millions of savers now to preserve the nation's security. America's security is your security.

Strain, Worry, Over-Work, Causes Listed For Heart Ailments

Strain, worry, fatigue, and over-work are important factors in heart ailments, particularly in those persons who carry a heavy load in professional and business life, the educational committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in a "health talk."

Coronary thrombosis is a common type of heart disease. Rushing about, fitting one more item of business into an already crowded schedule, may place more strain on the individual. The onset of coronary thrombosis is likely to occur when the body is at rest.

Coronary thrombosis or occlusion is caused by a clot of blood forming in a hardened artery to block off the flow of blood to the heart muscle. The coronary arteries get their name from the Latin word "corona," meaning crown, from their form and position on top of the heart. Thrombosis stems from thrombus, a Greek word meaning clot. As artery walls harden, because a sort of chalky substance develops within them, they lose their elasticity and the power to carry an increased flow of blood. Then the clot forms in the narrowed artery. Since it is the flow of blood through its arterial system that keeps the heart muscle functioning, thus, when the flow is blocked, the heart fails.

While some patients die in the first or second attack of coronary thrombosis or occlusion, about 75 per cent of those so afflicted may continue a useful life. Necessarily, their activity must be curtailed, so that the strain on the heart may be lightened.

Rest is all important in the treatment of the patient who has suffered one of these attacks. The damaged heart must be given a chance to mend. If there is enough blood circulation left, the body builds a new arterial system, but the heart is not so strong as before and a new attack may occur unless its work is eased. The output of energy must absolutely be reduced, if repetition is to be avoided.

To reduce the danger of coronary thrombosis, the wise executive will fit a rest period into his day, relaxing on a cot completely, sleeping, if possible. Heavy meals should be avoided. Excessive use of tobacco seems to be a factor in some cases.

"It's only indigestion" is the comment of many persons who have had a slight warning that the action of the heart is not just right. Strangely enough coronary heart disease and coronary thrombosis produce symptoms associated with the disturbances of the gastrointestinal or digestive tract, and especially the gallbladder. Many patients complaining of fullness, bloating and belching and mild abdominal discomfort after meals are actually suffering from a coronary insufficiency.

Coronary thrombosis occurs in all age groups, appearing frequently in those under 40, and three times as often in men as in women.

In all types of heart disease, worry should be avoided, as well as excessive muscular effort. A physical examination is necessary at least once a year. A trip to your doctor of medicine and strict adherence to his counsel will yield large dividends.

A healthy heart is essential to long and normal life. Take care of it. The alternative is early death.

Meet The Grasshopper Menace NOW

The worst since 1936 is the way the grasshopper situation is described by Dr. George C. Decker, Entomologist of the Illinois Natural History Survey and the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Except in unusually dry areas where vegetation is scarce, they are still confined to the areas where they hatch—fencerows, roadsides, clover and alfalfa fields.

"But we are rapidly approaching a day when the hoppers will begin migrating into corn, soybeans, and other crops," Dr. Decker warns. "Whenever possible, they should be destroyed before this migration begins."

"If places that harbor grasshoppers are treated now, costs will be comparatively low and in many cases the increased production of hay or seed will more than pay for the cost of treatment. But if treatment is delayed, the hay and clover seed will be practically lost in many fields and we will have considerable damage to adjoining crops. A delay in treatment also means an increase in cost of treatment because of the larger acreage that will have to be treated."

Most insecticide dealers have on hand only limited supplies of insecticides, and several days may be required to obtain additional materials. Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company has some material but not enough for heavy demand.

"We are recommending the use of sprays containing one of two rather new insecticides, chlordane or Toxaphene, in preference to baits," Dr. Decker says. "These materials are more effective and efficient. Farmers are urged to consult their farm advisers on rates of application or to follow closely the instructions provided by the manufacturers. DDT has not proved effective against grasshoppers."

Chlordane and Toxaphene are regarded as reasonably safe for agricultural use, but Dr. Decker cautions against applying them to food or forage crops within three weeks of harvest.

"While there seems to be little danger that animals that accidentally range in areas soon after treatment will be seriously effected, we urge that all farm animals be kept out of treated fields for at least two or three weeks following treatment," Dr. Decker cautions.

"Chlordane is very effective and we suggest you follow directions of distributor in its use," says Farm Advisor Hughes.

FARM NEWS

Soil's "Fuel Tank" Needs Organic Matter, Farmers Are Advised

CHICAGO—Your soil burns up organic matter in producing crops, the same as your car uses up gasoline to keep running, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a statement issued here.

And unless you refill the soil's organic matter "fuel tank," your soil will run out of gas, the statement says. That means low crop yields per acre, high production costs and smaller income.

"Organic matter is burned up through rapid decomposition in promoting crop growth," declares the statement. "No soil has an inexhaustible supply of organic matter. It can be easily drained off by poor management. Too many corn crops in succession will mine out the organic matter on even the best heavy clay and loam soils."

"When your soil loses its organic matter, it loses its ability to produce high yields. The removal of moisture-holding organic matter breaks down soil structure."

"The secret of balancing outgo and input of organic matter lies in good soil management. That means a rotation buttressed by deep-rooted legumes. You can't get a good stand of legumes with husky roots simply by seeding sweet clover or alfalfa. You have to lime the soil if tests indicate the need. You have to add plenty of fertilizer carrying phosphate and potash. Then you will get good growth and the legumes will do their job of repairing soil damage."

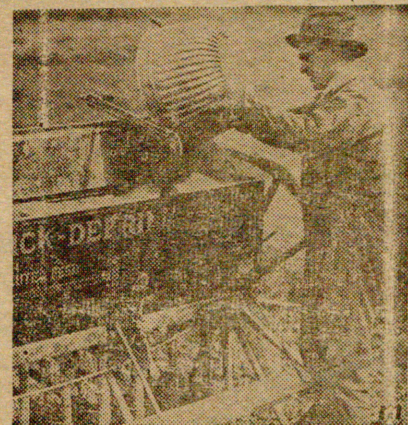

"Test, Don't Guess" Before Liming Soil, Agronomists Advise

CHICAGO—"Test, don't guess" when you plan to lime your soil, advises the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a statement made public here.

"Liming is the keystone of any well-planned soil building program," the statement points out. "Lime increases the efficiency of fertilizers. It sweetens acid soils and makes possible the growth of soil-building deep-rooted legumes."

"But be sure your soil needs lime before you apply it, and find out how much it needs."

"The safest course is to have your soil tested for its lime needs. County agricultural agents, vocational agricultural teachers or members of the agronomy staffs of state colleges and experiment stations are glad to co-operate.

"Liming is just one member of a soil building team. It has to be supported by others, if crop yields are to be increased, till improved and soil structure rebuilt. Other members of the team include generous use of phosphate and potash fertilizers, deep-rooted legumes regularly in the rotation, and the return to the soil of all possible animal manure and crop aftermath."

The Naval Aviation Cadet Program, which has been at a minimum since the war, will be revived in fiscal year 1949, which it will draw from the schools and colleges of the country 2,000 prospective Naval aviators. Relatives of Navy or other U.S. military personnel who died during World War II have only until Jan. 1, 1949, to file a claim for abatement of income taxes paid by the service man during the war. No tax is payable for deceased military personnel for any if the war years and a rebate will be made for any such taxes paid by the service man prior to his death.

Good Pasture Practices Add Grazing Days, Boost Herd's Milk Flow and Cut Feed Cost

Well Fertilized Pastures Are Cheapest Source of High Protein Feed.

CHICAGO—It costs only about one-fourth as much to produce milk on good pasture as it costs to feed a dairy herd on grain and hay, according to a statement issued here by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, based on statistics cited recently by G. A. Williams of the Purdue University dairy extension department.

Emphasizing that the difference between good and poor pasture is largely a matter of management, Williams lists these pasture practices that are cutting costs and raising milk flow:

1. Seed high-yielding pasture mixtures that give extra grazing days in spring and fall. A good legume-grass mixture produces more milk than either crop grown separately.
2. Rotate your grazing and avoid overgrazing. For high production, divide your pasture acreage into two or three fields.

3. Add plant nutrients so the soil can feed the legumes and grasses. During a six months' pasture season a cow removes from the soil approximately 115 pounds of nitrogen, 26 pounds of phosphate, 93 pounds of potash, and 37 pounds of lime. Unless these nutrients are returned in the form of plowed-under legumes, commercial fertilizer and barnyard manure, the land becomes too poor to produce good grass.

"Dairymen," said Williams, "are finding it increasingly more profitable to purchase commercial fertilizer to supplement the supply of barnyard manure available than it is to buy high-priced concentrates."

Deep-Rooted Legumes and Grasses Called Tool for Opening Up Poorly Drained Soil

Tight Soil Causes Ponding on Corn Field.

CHICAGO—If your soil doesn't drain well, look to the condition of your soil as well as to your drain tile system, says the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"The slow down may be caused by damaged soil structure and loss of organic matter," says a statement issued by the committee. "Putting in more drain tile may give you temporary relief. But it is not a permanent solution."

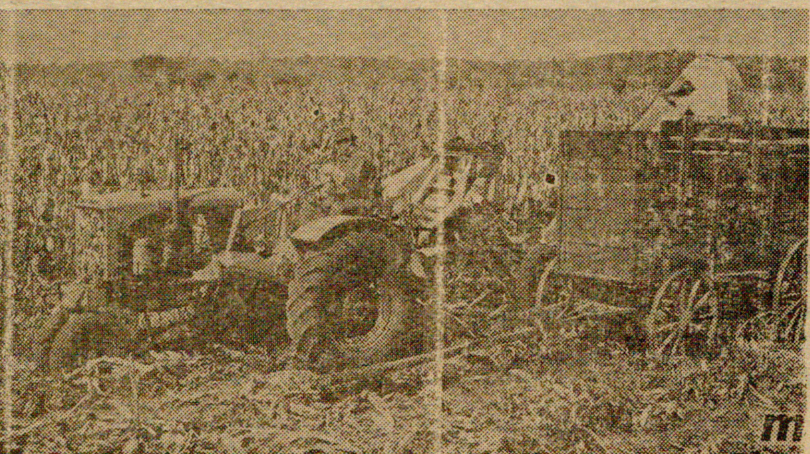

"Many corn belt soils need unclogging. The structure of silt loams, clay loams and clays has been broken down by too many grain crops and too few legume crops. Working wet soils with heavy machinery has made matters worse."

"The tool for opening this stopped up soil is deep-rooted legumes and grasses in the rotation. The tap-roots of sweet clover and alfalfa well fed with phosphate and potash pierce the compacted soil. Plowed under legume roots and tops build up the organic matter supply. When this organic matter decomposes it gives off compounds that stick soil particles together in loose granules. When your soil is loose and grainy it has good tilth."

"How deep-rooted legumes help improve drainage was shown in Iowa tests. Silt loam that had been in alfalfa three years absorbed 2½ inches of water in the first three hours following a rain. Soil left bare of crops absorbed only about half an inch of rain in this time."

Bushel Boosting Soil Management Methods Cut Production Costs, Raise Profit Margin

More Bushels Per Acre Mean Lower Production Costs.

CHICAGO—Higher production costs now biting deeper into farm profits, emphasize the need for farmers to get their land in shape to produce more bushels at lower unit costs per acre, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee in a statement issued here.

"Cost of production has caught up with farm prices and any downward trend will hit farm prices first," the statement says.

The committee declares that "greater crop producing efficiency is the answer to lower farm prices and soaring production costs."

"The factor that governs profits is the margin between what you get for your crops and what it costs you to produce them," the statement says.

"You can widen that margin and increase your profits by good soil management practices."

"That means using every possible means of building and maintaining soil fertility. It includes 'put-back' steps and 'holding' operations. Vital among the 'put-back' steps is rebuilding the soil organic matter by growing deep-rooted legumes and grasses in the rotation and feeding them generously with nitrogen and potash as needed. The roots of alfalfa and sweet clover will pry open tight soils. The organic matter added by roots and tops will repair broken-down soil structure. You can add to the organic matter by saving all barnyard manure and putting it back on the soil, and plowing under corn stalks, straw and other crop left-overs."

"Your 'holding' operations can include contouring, grass waterways and terracing if necessary. These will save moisture, topsoil and plant nutrients."

BOVINE "CHESSIE" BEARS C & O MARKING

If "Chessie," the docile kitten symbolizing The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, is in a snuk these days, it's because a bovine "Chessie" is grabbing a share of her glory and trading on her name. "Chessie," the cow, bears on the right flank of her shiny, black hide a natural marking of the letters "C" and "O," in exactly the arrangement the letters appear on Chesapeake and Ohio freight and passenger cars.

She is owned by Robert Scharfenberger, 21, a C & O signalman, and grazes in pastures along the C & O tracks at Carntown, Ky. "Chessie" was born on Armistice Day, 1941, on the 66-acre farm of C. J. Scharfenberger, who is holding her in front of a C & O hopper coal car to show the similarity in marking.

Neighboring farmers conjecture about prenatal influence, and say that "Chessie's" mother was so impressed with C & O trains running past her pasture that it left a mark on her offspring. Shortly after "Chessie's" birth, Mr. and Mrs. Scharfenberger gave the calf to their son on his 14th birthday anniversary.

chke of Chicago, and Yvonne Koerner left Friday night for Scottsburg, Ind., where they visited with relatives. They also went to Springmill Park, which is a very scenic place with caves and beautiful shrubs. Sunday they drove to Munice, Ind., to attend a family reunion. They arrived home Sunday evening bringing back with them Rosine Marschke who spent two weeks with her aunt and family, the Manther's at Scottsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lambrecht and son Richard took time off recently to take a trip, covering approximately 1600 miles. They went through Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois and Kentucky. They spent sometime in Eureka Springs, Arkansas, the "Shepherd of the Hills," country. They also saw the buried city at Wickliffe, Ky. Altogether they had a most enjoyable trip.

There are 329,820 Indians in this country. How many Bureau of Indian Affairs employees would you say there are administering to these Americans? One for every 50,000? One for every 25,000? One for every 3,000? The fact is that there is one government employee in the Bureau of Indian Affairs for every THIRTY Indians in the country!—Buffalo (Wyo.)

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Always looking for a way to dress up ordinary vegetables and make them more colorful and "flavor-rich"? Then top your vegetables off with a sauce that's 1 in taste-appeal. (It's fine for eggs and fish, too.)

Hollandaise Sauce

- 3 egg yolks
- 4 tablespoons boiling water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice, gently warmed
- 1/2 cup fortified margarine, melted
- dash cayenne
- salt to taste

Place small bowl over, not into, a pan of gently boiling water. Drop the egg yolks in bowl and beat with rotary beater until they begin to thicken. Continue to beat, adding the boiling water, a tablespoon at a time, until well beaten in. Beat in the warm lemon juice. Remove bowl from over the boiling water; continue to beat and gradually add the melted margarine. Add cayenne and salt to taste. Keep in warm, not hot, place until ready to serve. Makes a cup of sauce.

Most everybody seems to think that the Republicans must nominate some sort of a superman for the presidency. No such restriction is placed on the big party where an ex-haberdasher and Pendergast political henchman seems to be plenty good enough. Come to think of it, maybe it will take a superman to clean up the mess made by the Democrats.—Lawrence (Kans.) Outlook

BEWARE OF CESSPOOL AND CISTERN CLEANING "PIRATES"

If you have an itinerant outfit clean your cesspool or cistern, be sure to have an agreement in advance as to what the total cost of the job will be. It is best to have this agreement in writing.

An example is given from one Illinois farmer where traveling cleaners said it would cost "a little over 10" to clean the cistern. When they finished they told the farmer it would be $72 and collected from him.

The best way not to get gypped by such outfits is to have the work done by someone in your own community.

Rise Above Sweltering Heat By Keeping Crisp and Cool

By Erta Haley

HAVE you been in such a dither lately over the new clothes that you've forgotten just how important a good tubbing and scrubbing can be?

Or have you been unable to put yourself into new clothes and decided that since you can't have new things it's just foolish to worry about personal care?

If you belong in either class, give this matter a bit of thought because it's more important than new clothes or old. Good grooming or what it really amounts to—personal care—is the outer covering which we show people. Real cleanliness, that fresh scrubbed look, will make people ignore clothes that are not the latest in fashion; or, if you have new clothes and are careless about true good grooming, new clothing does not have its full desired effect.

Grooming Is Key To the Real Person

You may not judge a book by the covers, but lots of people do. Nowadays we meet so many people that unless their first impression really attracts or impresses us favorably we simply don't bother with them.

So much for how people are impressed with good grooming. But how does it make you feel? Basically it builds self confidence. It also gives a real sense of well being. Think how wonderful you feel, freshly tubbed, hair brushed, shining and trim, seams of your hose straight, white shoes spotless and neat, clothes pressed and well fitted. The joy other people sense in you looking like that will make you feel better too.

Warm weather is a real challenge to keeping yourself neat, but it can be done if you give yourself regular care. Outline a program, then stick to it. Once you've established the routine, most items will take little time, and you won't feel right about skipping even the smallest of them.

Fourteen Points Given For Daily Care

1. Give yourself a daily bath or shower with a thick lather to remove all traces of dead skin.
2. Use a deodorant regularly, after the bath, as well as in the morning and evening before going out.
3. Brush your teeth and massage the gums at least twice a day. This is in the best interest of health as well as attractiveness.

From tip to toe.

4. Use a depilatory or other means, as necessary.
5. Use makeup carefully, but use it only on a clean skin which is readily acquired through plain soap and water.
6. Freshen hose daily or twice a day if you are going out in the evening are essential.
7. Change underwear daily. It's easily tubbed and, when knitted, needs no pressing.
8. Brush hair daily; shampoo every 10 days to two weeks. Brush shoulders after each combing.
9. Keep nails trim, polished or not. Use a brush for cleaning thoroughly.
10. Brush clothes before each wearing. Everything must be free from wrinkles when put on.
11. Air dresses overnight before hanging in the closet.
12. Wash dresses often or have them cleaned frequently.
13. Don't let yourself slip on accessories. Collars, gloves and handkerchiefs should be crisply clean. Buttons, snaps and seams should be in perfect order.
14. Shoes must be cleaned, brushed or polished daily. Check heels frequently.

Picture Hat

For sheer femininity, Etta Leen designs a summer picture hat of filmy white horsehair and fine white straw. It has a simple, head-fitting crown and is trimmed with soft loops of moss green taffeta ribbon with ends extended across the top of the wide brim.

Freshness, Daintiness Are Summer Requisites

The tubbed and scrubbed impression is being emphasized these days because everyone knows it adds so much to the personality. If you step out clean and scrubbed into clean, fresh-air smelling clothing, you'll be able to keep above the warm temperatures that come your way, as they most certainly will.

If you can have clothing that can be tubbed, get it by all means as soap-and-water freshness will keep you impeccably groomed all during warm weather.

If you do all your own work, choose things that are less frilly so you can cut down on corners. Simple dresses are easier to do than befrilled ones. A slick and smooth hairdress, with hair worn short is easier to brush-shape than a complicated hairdress piled on top of the head and pinned to within an inch of your skin.

Rinse With Warm Water After Bath

There's lots of value in the cold rinse during cool weather after a bath, but the warm rinse will leave you more refreshed after a bath during summer.

The bath itself, or shower or sponge bath, should be thoroughly relaxing. Take your time and make certain you remove dirt as well as skin oil (excess) and dead skin.

Hair Care Easy If You Know How

Brushing hair will give it shine and brilliance, and every head of hair can use that. If you have a lot of new hairs coming in all the time, get a stiff-bristled brush to train the new short hairs into the rest of the hair.

If you don't fix your hair every night, wear a casual style that is easily manageable. Combs are excellent for keeping the hair in place where pins fail, but they should match the hair as well as possible.

Quick Tips for Good Grooming

Hang stockings to dry by the toe, never folding them over a hanger. Shape gloves after rinsing so they'll be ready to wear. Keep dress and suit pockets from collecting too many things.

Be Smart!

Headed for fashion success is this happy combination of the flattering and ever so pretty bib idea with that Victorian touch in the off-the-shoulder line and suggestion of a bertha in the bias fold that borders the yoke. The design has ample double duty possibilities, a dress-up touch for a suit, and it still is interesting enough to wear alone. It's presented in tissue faille crepe, another refreshingly new touch.
